

Gone With the Wind

(MGM, 1939)

Towards the very beginning, Mammy mentions food “coming back up again”.

Later on in the first portion of the movie (before the intermission), when Scarlett returns to Tara after a long journey through fire, she g*s and coughs on a vegetable from the ground. The scene is filmed as a silhouette so it’s very dark and very hard to see anything. This makes the trigger primarily audio.
