

The Meaning of Life

(1983)

This warning was submitted.

It's the first scene in the "Autumn Years" section of the movie. Although I've never seen the scene in full, only clips, I have read the summary and it was enough to trigger me. It involves an obese man eating at a restaurant, and continuously v*ing through the entire meal. I don't have a time stamp because I've never seen the film, but I do know that right before the man enters two fish in a tank say "Oh no, here comes Mr. Creosote" (the man). Hope this helps!!

I looked it up and on IMDB it says that the scene also includes the man exploding and the v* goes everywhere.

Sounds like this movie should be avoided.
