

The Little Mermaid

(Disney, 1989)

Right at the beginning during Fathoms Below, Eric says “isn’t this great? The salty sea air? The wind bowing in your face? Perfect day to be at sea.” The camera pans over to Grimsby, who is bent over the side of the ship. As he stands up his face is green and his cheeks puff up before he is s* again. There is some audio but no visible v*.
